Preparing For Second Victory Loan Drive

All will Be Asked to Lend Funds for War Purposes and Our Boys' Support

Increasing widespread war front men, more ships — more planes — more guns — more men — more equipment — MORE MONEY. Six hundred millions of dollars are needed and a Victory Loan campaign for this sum is now nearing completion.

Every citizen of our Dominion is being asked to co-operate with the local representatives of the National War Finance Committee, to the end that the Unit which comprises all the territory surrounding Wainwright, Irma, Greenhead, Hinch, Jarow (and the intermediate country) may respond readily and willingly in this great effort.

The Unit organizer, Mr. W. Huntingford, with the aid of a strong and persistent committee which covers the whole of the above-named territory, has things nearly shaped up for this big drive, and in Wainwright town Mr. J. A. Mackenzie, the chairman of the town committee, is planning out his campaign inside the town limits with the aid of a number of willing workers in this effort.

Realizing the whole-hearted response which this district made to the last Victory Loan (see honor pinners were earned by this unit), The Star has no hesitation in asking for the same splendid support for the new Victory Loan which is arranged to start off on Monday next and to continue for one month. This is indeed a duty which we all owe to Canada and the Empire, as let us each resolve to lose no opportunity of ensuring that the objective is reached and more still.

Elsewhere in this issue it will be noted that on Monday evening—the day of the opening of the campaign the "blackout" in Wainwright will mark this event, and possibly as the campaign progresses other stunts may enhance the argument to "Lend until it hurts!"

The whole proposition is simply one of lending to the Federal government all savings which at present are held by the banks and in other deposits.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The Patriotic Service Club held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Hartling on Wednesday last.

The report of the treasurer showed that $15.00 of $60.00 had been donated to the local Red Cross branch, and that 70 pairs of socks, 24 pairs mittens, 12 scarves, 28 sweaters, 11 suits of pajamas, 5 quilts and 50 refugee articles which had all been made by the club for that institution.

Mrs. S. Simmon was elected president, Mrs. R. Hartling, vice-president, and Mrs. L. Stuart, sec. treas., in the election of officers for the coming year.

Stealing an Hour of Time for All

Between the hours of going to bed on Sunday night last and arising on Monday morning, the whole of the Dominion of Canada gained a whole hour by changing to daylight saving time.

This was accomplished in order to conserve badly-needed electric power in the busy centers, and has been adopted so as to save any further confusion with regard to "what time of day it is here?" of "what time does the train go according to MY time?"

In the accomplishment of the change, every householder had to advance his clocks and time pieces one hour before retiring on Sunday night and then on Monday morning the alarm-clock went off at its usual set-out-of-bed signal time. Just as easy as that. Of course, those who had no desire to lose an hour of their sleeping time, got between the blankets an hour earlier than usual in order to make things right.

At 9:00 a.m. on Monday morning ALL trains across the country were stopped and the change made in that respect, so that for the future we will all have registered one more hour of life, and adopted "daylight-saving" time!

Arrangements Made For Practice Blackout

The following are the plans and suggestions to carry out the practice blackout in the Town of Wainwright on Monday evening next (Feb. 16th) in conjunction with the opening of the Victory Loan Drive.

(A) All business men and women are to remain at their place of business to see that same is properly blacked out, or arrange to put out the lights before leaving for their homes.

(B) The head of each family will be held responsible to see that their homes are properly blacked out. This does not mean that it is necessary to put out all the lights in your homes, but cover the windows with whatever material can be used to prevent any light penetrating to the outside. It is preferable that this precaution is checked before hand.

(C) The V.V.R.'s and the 19th Dragons will act as an auxiliary force. Keeping check on the main roads leading into town, as well as cruising about the streets to see that everything is in order.

(D) In short; that all citizens are asked to do during the blackout, is to either stay at their place of business, OR at their homes, placing themselves in the position of watching their property in the form of A. R. P. WORKERS, and observing the effect of the blackout. The V.V.R.'s and Dragons will carry out the duties of an auxiliary force.

In order to carry out this blackout, the Mayor has authorized the Calgary Power Co. to turn out the street lights at 8 p.m. when the first bomb signal is fired and to switch these on again at the second signal which will be fired at 8:15 p.m. Each citizen will then act accordingly at the given signal to turn out their own lights OR blackout their windows.

Board of Trade Shows Great Activity

The interest of Wainwright business men in the work being carried on by the Wainwright and District Board of Trade was well marked by the attendance of 44 members at the regular dinner meeting held in the hotel dining room February 4th. Ten new members were introduced and welcomed.

The committee on membership and attendance reported that the membership drive was progressing very well with the hope that this year's membership will be twice as large as last.

Several other committees reported progress. Some of these being the promotion of Wainwright as the headquarters of the new enlarged municipal district, the gathering of scrap for the salvage campaign and the possibility of establishing a cheese factory in Wainwright.

Under new business, Mr. E. G. Cotton, commander of the local V.V.R., outlined tentative plans as made by his organization for a proposed "practice blackout" in Wainwright.

Mr. J. A. Mackenzie spoke at length on the coming Victory Loan and the part which every person must take in this drive.

Wainwright To Prepare For Practice Blackout

Mayor Middlemass gives Authority For Movement and Seeks Co-Operation of all Citizens

Under his appointment from Ottawa as head of the Air Raid Precautions (A.R.P.) on another page of this issue we give his request and instructions for the fullest co-operation from all our citizens in the "practice blackout" which will be staged on Monday evening next.

Although this big feature will coincide with the opening of the Dominion-wide Victory Loan campaign, it is intended also as a lesson and a warning to persons, as to what may become necessary in order that enemy air-planes (if they ever arrive in Canada) may not receive ANY assistance by way of guidance across the country, or toward large cities and centers of large population or to places of importance such as military centers or munitions factories and such-like.

It is intended that ALL PERSONS shall comply with the Defence of the Realm Act, by which the A.R.P. authorities, the military authorities, the militia, the V.V.R.'s, the R.C.M.P., and indeed, all vested with authority in these matters are to be implicitly obeyed in any orders given to the general populace.

So far as at present planned, the Town of Wainwright, is to become an absolute "Blackout" at EIGHT p.m. on Monday next, and at the firing of the bomb at that hour the street lighting system will be blotted out, and ALL PERSONS are required to make sure that NO LIGHT WHATSOEVER is allowed to show from their household lighting to the outside. This can be done either by covering ALL windows, etc., with heavy black shades, or by hanging black material or blankets (and so forth) over these light-leaks, thus rendering the whole premises quite "Black-out" to the passer-by OR by pulling the main light switch at the entrance of the light lines.

In this connection, special A.R.P. wardens, vested with authority, will parade ALL streets and lanes in order to make a check-up of the efficiency of the "Black-out" (and report infractions) and also to give advice regarding any improvement in the conditions as required.

The town has been divided into sections, and throughout these areas A.R.P. assistants will be posted at specific points in order that those who MUST be abroad at the time can be assisted in the darkness, and also in order that all accidents from any cause may be avoided.

Persons driving cars for the fifteen minutes' duration of the blackout, are required to place the vehicle in a safe place at the extreme side of the street or road, with the lights off, and await the signal which will be given by a second bomb to signify the "all clear."

Persons who may happen to be driving into town between the said bomb explosions (8 p.m. and 8:15 p.m.) are required to immediately upon the first signal, draw over to the side of the road they are travelling (if within hearing distance of the signal) and darken their car lights as if they were in town; proceeding again on their journey at the second bomb signal.

It should be noted by all our readers—both those in town and living adjacent thereto—that this blackout is being used, for no distinct purpose. It will be a "send-off" for the Victory Loan campaign which opens on Monday next, and also for purposes of giving practice to those in the A.R.P. work in case the need should ever arise for such a drastic proceeding as a real air-raid may prove later on, for no longer can we delude ourselves that combat zones cannot reach Canadian soil, and the spread of this awful war to new battle fronts has placed Canada in a vulnerable position both from the East and from the West.

On motion by Councillor Lissimore, the offer of Mr. John Taylor to redecorate the inside of the Town Hall for the sum of $110.00 was approved by council. Mr. Taylor to furnish all materials and labor as per estimate.

On motion by Councillor Robinson the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer were instructed to issue cheque in favor of Mr. George Madder to pay for gravel obtained from his pit at the rate of 8 cents per yard.

The Secretary-Treasurer presented to council the Financial Statement for the month of January, 1942, and on motion by Councillor Huntingford this statement was received and accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of this meeting.

On motion by Councillor Billing, it was resolved that a by-law concerning the sale of Lots 16 and 17 in Block 4, Plan 6445, be introduced.

By-Law Number 279 was then introduced and was given its first and second readings on motions by Councillors Alderman and Lissimore respectively.

Council was regularly adjourned.

United Church W.M.S. Arrange Presbyterial

An interesting meeting of the W. M. S. and the W. A. of the United Church took place on Wednesday last at the home of Mrs. J. Telford.

Arrangements were completed for the W.M.S. annual presbyterial which is being held in the church this week (closing today Wednesday.)

Mrs. Richard was in charge of devotional period, and dwelt with some thoughts brought to us during the week of prayer. Mrs. May took up a chapter of the study book.

Madame May and MacKenzie were the hostesses.

New Councillor Polls High Vote

As has been the case in many town elections, the new-comer to the polls headed the election results by the overwhelming majority in the voting on Monday last, when returning-officer Kenny and Poll-clerk Horn were on duty at the Town Hall.

Although it was possibly one of the smallest polls recorded in town, the voters showed up to their duties for almost the whole time the poll was open, and at the close at seven p.m. the counting of the totals was quickly accomplished and the results given out as follows:

- Carl Stafford 104
- Earl Cork 69
- Thos. Billing 51

There were three spoilt ballots.

Parents Asked For Utmost Co-Operation

On Monday, February 2nd, the trustees of the Wainwright School District met for the regular monthly meeting.

Salaries and accounts to $1,185.56 were examined and passed for payment, and the reports of Principals Meade and Mrs. E. McLellan of the High and Public Schools were presented and accepted, as was also the report of the Attendance Officer.

Three months' leave of absence was granted Trustee Hannah on a motion passed unanimously.

Several public school pupils were reported to the Board for insubordinate conduct, and the Secretary was instructed to write the parents of these pupils, asking for their co-operation in attaining better discipline.

Reports of Trustees Mrs. F. E. McLeod and Mr. W. W. Carrell, who were delegates to the recent convention of School Trustees, held in Calgary during the last three days of January, were presented, and the delegates complimented on the completeness and interest of these reports. The Board then adjourned until February 16th.

HSLSCHOOL BONSPFIEL PROVES SUCCESSFUL

The second bonspiel arranged by the Wainwright high school pupils, held at the rink on Saturday last, proved another big success.

Some twenty trunks were entered in the contests the first starting off at 7:00 a.m. (P) and coffee and snacks were served to the young curlers between games.

The winners were:—Grand Challenge—A. Dixon, W. Macleod, M. Hore and B. McNally, 1; H. Zajic, E. McLeod, L. Greer and E. Wear, 2.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan, occupying just over 60% of the acreage, but in Alberta Red Bobs comes first, being sown on 42.1% of the acreage closely followed by Marquis.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT

It is no secret that the U.S. Navy is buying large patrol airships, 246 feet long, 75 1/2 feet wide, 50-foot speed, 2,000 miles cruising range — a total fleet of 46 airships has been authorized.

SHAKES BITE WITH THEIR JAWS WIDE OPEN

How much does the visible smoke of one cigarette weigh? .0031 of an ounce

These Canadians did a marvellous job of flying and navigating their giant Stirling bomber to its home base after it had been hit 20 times by "flak." They landed with only sufficient fuel to have permitted one more circle of the airframe before landing. The three members of the R.C.A.F. attached to an R.A.F. bomber squadron are Pilot-Officer Ian Holdas of Saskatoon, standing at the step; and Sgt. W. H. Bracken (W.A.G.) of Moose Jaw, LEFT, and Sgt. G. J. Kearns (W.A.G.), of Halifax. For P. O. Holdas it was the first trip over Germany; for Bracken and Kearns it was the fourth.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

By Dr. K. W. Neatby
Director, Agricultural Department
North-West Line Elevators Association

Cereal Variety Recommendations

No less than eight varieties of wheat are officially recommended in the prairie provinces. Due to the striking differences in soil and climate found in various regions, it is natural that some varieties should be particularly well adapted to certain regions. Each year standard and new varieties are tested at widely separated points. Hundreds of such tests are conducted, and the results carefully examined by provincial cereal variety selection committees.

On the basis of experimental results, official recommendations are published; and these are distributed to all grain buyers of line elevator companies associated with the Agricultural Department of the North-West Line Elevators Association. Recommendations respecting oats, barley and flax are also included.

In order to achieve the best results in grain production, the farmer must be sure to grow the variety best suited to his local conditions, and he must have reasonably pure seed which will germinate and grow vigorously.

Crop Improvement Associations are now functioning in each of the three prairie provinces and through them the country elevator grain buyer becomes the recognized distributor of registered and certified cereal seeds. He will be glad to advise respecting recommended varieties, and will place seed orders with the Crop Improvement Association.

Several new varieties of oats and barley have been released during the past few years. The emphasis now placed on livestock products justifies more attention to securing the best varieties of coarse grains. Also, the Government is asking for more seed more flax.

Buy only good seed of a good variety.

I am Resolved!

As the year 1942 gets into its stride, this world is wracked with deadly anguish. A Canadian mother tearfully eyes a vacant chair; a young wife anxiously scans the news a little girl lies bleeding in Russia; a hunted youth slinks through the night in Serbia; an English mother shudders at the shadow in the sky; an old man in Poland wonders if release will come in his time.

Whether I am a workman at my lathe, or an employer of men, an engineer planning industries, or a boy just learning my trade, a girl in a munitions plant, or a farmer behind my plow, I must play my full part in this crisis. Mountains can be moved when many willing shoulders get beneath the load.

I AM RESOLVED to undertake vigorously the work which lies before me; to be industrious and to wrestle resolutely with obstacles, to be untiring at my task.

I AM RESOLVED to be cheerful and uncomplaining at all times. Sympathetic to those who work beside me; and to those in authority over me.

I AM RESOLVED to be tolerant of the shortcomings of others realizing that to make an effort is commendable; to attempt nothing is deadly.

I AM RESOLVED that if I am fitted to serve my country best in the fighting forces I will take my place proudly beside my comrades.

I AM RESOLVED to strive with all my power to press on in my daily task to the limit of my endurance. It may be that my modest effort will tip the scale and set a great shout of deliverance echoing round the world.

A Dramatic Picture of Canada at War

Booklet prepared and distributed by The Ontario Paper Company valuable contribution to nation's war effort.

The amazing transformation of a nation from Peace to War is superbly portrayed in a 24-page booklet, "Each To Our Part", produced for general distribution to the war by the Ontario Paper Company of Toronto, Ontario. It is a job that needed doing for, as pointed out in the publication, we all work harder when we know the other fellow is working side by side with us in the same great cause.

The title of the production,—"Each To Our Part"—is taken from one of Winston Churchill's speeches, and quite appropriately a dynamic full-page photograph of that great statesman in action before the House of Commons at Ottawa is used as the frontispiece. Beautiful half-tone illustration on a large-size page format are relied on almost entirely to tell the story of Canada's transformation from a peace to war economy although short description and a very few statistics are used, to explain the pictorial illustration. An artistic feature is a large double-page animated map of Canada showing where the different war materials and war commodities are produced.

It takes a picture-story of this kind to bring home to Canadians the remarkable strides the country has made, all criticisms of our war effort notwithstanding, in its progress within less than two years to our present position of one of the main arsenals of democracy. The forward entitled "A Nation Transformed" quoting from a speech by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, rightly asserts, "Since Dunkirk, Canada has undergone the greatest and most rapid industrial development in its history". And here, in picture form is the proof of it.

Every conceivable phase of the country's war action is shown in the pictures, from the marching of men in the Army, depth charging operations of the Navy and flying airplanes of the Royal Canadian Air Force to mining operations underground, the launching of cargo vessels, delicate and intricate research work on war problems, the training of mechanics for war work in pulp mill-shops, the building of anti-aircraft and machine guns and the growing and processing of food products for Britain.

A special section is devoted to the forest products—everything from mine pit props to airplane fuselages that are being produced for war work.

Pulp and paper making operations are portrayed, furnishing raw materials for explosives and newspaper for export to provide foreign exchange.

A specially interesting section factory operations in the production of small-arms ammunition shells gun barrels machine guns chemicals for smoke screens tanks airplanes radilocators range finders gas mask search lights and many another implement of war. Corvettes and cargo vessels shown in various stages of construction in the ship yards. Molten aluminum being poured and immense power developments for separating aluminum from its ores are also depicted. Girls working in munition factories on precision manufacturing operations, members of the Women's Auxiliary Corps training for motorcycle despatch riding and boys and girls collecting scrap metal to further the fight against Hitler, together with inspiring extracts from speeches by King George and Mr. Churchill, combine to make "Each To Our Part" an outstanding contribution to our war effort and an inspiring and educative picture of Canada at war. The booklet is being distributed throughout Canada and United States free of charge. A copy can be secured on request. The entire production is Canadian—color being used throughout in a booklet which is indeed a valuable informative and inspiring record of Canada at war.

T. C. A. PILOTS RETURN FROM BOMBER FERRY SERVICE

Toronto, January.—Two Trans-Canada Air Lines' pilots, Captains George Lothian and Malcolm Barclay have resumed airline service after a three months leave of absence during which they ferried bombers across the Atlantic for the Ferry Command. For Barclay it provided an opportunity to visit his home town, Greenock, Scotland, and swap notes with his brother Captain David Barclay of Scottish Airways who has distinguished himself making "mercy flights" from remote parts of Scotland. Since leaving Scotland 12 years ago Malcolm has done the same thing in Canada as a "bush" flyer before joining T.C.A. Both men learned their flying at Renfrew. They are sons of a Greenock dairyman.

THE WAY IT WORKS—AND HOW!

"Show me a single order that advertising ever put on the books" demanded a hard-boiled manufacturer. "Show me a single loaf of hay that the sun ever put in the barn" replied the salesman—and then added:

"The sun makes the hay, but the farmer must put it in the barn. Advertising paves the way for the salesman; creates acceptance of your products and the desire to buy. That's the function of advertising. You pay your salesman to put the orders on the books—that's their function, and a mighty important one. Think that over!"

RUSSIAN SNOW ON BRITISH BOOTS

Fact follows in the matter of the Russian Army and its boots. In the last war the rumour flew around Britain and throughout the world that Russian soldiers had been seen travelling across Britain "with snow on their boots". This winter there is Russian snow on 5,000,000 pairs of British boots.

Part of the emergency aid-to-Russia programme, first deliveries of these boots were being shipped within a week of the Nazi invasion. Half a million pairs were sent immediately, and by the end of August 1,000,000 pairs had been shipped or loaded. Britain is fulfilling the whole Russian request for 3,000,000 pairs.

The boots are exactly the same as those worn by British soldiers and, although taken immediately from the large stocks built up in Great Britain, their shipment created no immediate shortage of supplies. The capacity of the industry is sufficient to meet any further reasonable requirements; in the last war no fewer than 112,000,000 pairs of all types of Service boots were made by United Kingdom manufacturers.

Although full statistics of production in this war cannot be given, it is known that in one single week the industry produced 400,000 pairs.

The boots are armoured with heel tips, toe tips, and reverse solebills. The new last used gives exactly the correct joint and toe room. Fitting has been specially studied, and three fittings to each size are available. Sizes run from 5's to 12's.

The first group to be assigned to regular service after completing an extension training course, 100 members of the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force are now on duty at Uplands air station, Ottawa. LEFT, from Airwoman R. M. Van Allen, to Airwoman Stella McKee of Edmonton RIGHT, tastes soup the boys of the air station will have for supper, while L. A. C. Levitt draws stores from workshop, storeroom, LEFT, from Airwoman R. M. Van Allen.

The Spirit of The Pioneer Mother Flames Anew Today

THINK BACK to the old days—when Canada was young.

Think of the high courage, the indomitable will of those pioneer women. Within the stockade or in the open field, they toiled—yes, fought—by the side of their men for the safeguarding of everything they held dear.

In the hearts of the women of Canada, this old spirit flames anew today! Gone are the heavy muskets, the log barricades—but the love of freedom, the stubborn resolve to win through at all costs—these things remain unchanged, unchangeable!

Grimly quenching their tears, mothers say "God bless you" to their fighting sons—everywhere young women are serving where duty calls—the women of Canada are bound together in one common cause.

In thousands of Canadian homes, women are revising their family budgets, planning new economies, making extra sacrifices—so that more and more money will be available for the purchase of Victory Bonds.

They know—these women of Canada—that every dollar loaned now means more tanks—more guns—more planes—more ships—more of everything which is needed to smash Hitlerism and bring Peace to all the family hearths of the world.

Dr. George Barton Cutten has announced he will retire as president of Colgate university on August 31st, after 20 years of service. He was president of Acadia university, Wolfville, N. S., for 12 years before going to Colgate. He served as a major in the Canadian army during the last war, becoming chief recruiting officer for the Sixth Military District.

A recent photo of Field Marshal Walther von Reichenau, one of Germany's most distinguished soldiers, who died after an attack of apoplexy according to an announcement by the official German radio. He was regarded as the general closest to Hitler, but was much disliked by other military leaders of the Reich.

(WHO IS CALLING)

I dreamt last night and now I can't forget the dream.

I was standing looking at Vimy Ridge as I knew it twenty-four years ago. Only all the troops had gone. Behind was the chalky entrance to the tunnel from which we emerged on April 9, 1917. Ahead was the gentle slope of bare hard earth, planted with tin cans broken rifles, barbed wire stakes and gouged by shell craters and trench excavations.

It seemed to be just about twilight. Not a thing stirred. The silence was complete.

Then I saw Jim. He was standing on top off to the right a little, just about where he and I had hit Hitler's front line together, where he had dropped so quickly he didn't have the chance even to say "So long" to me. He looked just as he did then. Twenty-two years old and handsome. Suddenly he raised his rifle high, and with that shining light of enthusiasm which he used to have in his eyes he cried:

"Come on Canada!" I awoke with the feeling that he was not only looking at me but through me to a huge crowd of other Canadians.

There are some dreams which cannot be accounted for. This wasn't one of those, however, because yesterday I had learned that the slogan for the second Victory Loan was to be, "Come on Canada!"

Today, while that vision of Jim stayed with me, this question popped up: Who really is saying, "Come on Canada?" in this present Victory Loan Campaign? And I think I have the answer in the dream about Jim. Who have a better right to ask Canadians today to pour all the money they can get their hands on into the job of wiping out the dictators than the glorious crowd of more than 50,000 young Canadians who willingly gave up a future life of happiness in Canada and accepted a grave in France for the sake of others back home?

With Westerners no CBC news announcer is more popular than Byng Witteker of Toronto. Byng is heard on daytime and occasional evening news spots and on other CBC programmes from Toronto. His easy informal style clean diction and cheery tones have made him many friends in the Prairie Region.

There's no one more popular than Byng Witteker of Toronto. The rule must be able to take it and find it out, too. Here you see one member giving a demonstration with an instructor. The man was all set to throttle his victim, but now the tables are being turned.

TO TIN HATS

Manufacturers of teapots are now making tin hats a top factory is turning out bullets and makers of roller and ice skates are at work on aircraft components as the result of factory control in Britain.

Many British concerns have swung over to war production under earlier re-armament programmes but in the last six months the work of the Board of Trade's Factory and Storage Premises Control has brought thousands more works large and small to direct war production.

Torpedoes are coming from a boot and shoe factory and aero-engine parts from a hairpin works while a beauty cream factory is applying its experience to the making of anti-gas and medicated ointments. Art and silk manufacturers are busy on munitions and a wallpaper mill is filling shells the cases for which are being made by silvermiths and the fuses by makers of brass taps.

Decorated & Promoted

Lieutenant Leverette Kabler, of the United States navy's airplane tender U.S.S. Heron, is pictured here. His expert handling of his vessel under bombing attack of 15 huge Japanese bombers won him promotion and decoration. For seven hours the Heron dodged bombs as Jap bombers swooped overhead somewhere in the Far East. Forty-six hundred-pound bombs were dropped at her. One struck. Three landed nearby. Three torpedoes were launched at the hard-pressed Heron. In spite of all this Lieutenant Kabler brought the Heron back safely to port after having accounted for one four-motored Nipponese flying boat shot down, another, and possibly more, damaged.

"CHERCHEZ LA FEMME"

"Slip it slowly, Miss Cameron," the Don corroborated her partner's warning before answering Larry's question by saying, "he is a certain Signor Marchese, otherwise known as 'Tony the Wop,' a man who is rather well up in the councils of the German element here, and a man who is also very fortunate for your needs—despite indebted to myself. I have been in touch with him this afternoon and ordered him to present himself at my reception tonight, at which time I will introduce him," he looked straight at the Sergeant, "and instruct him to place himself at your disposal. After that, my meddling cousin, it will be up to you, as the Americans so aptly put it."

"In other words," Marion entered the conversation, "this Tony the Wop person will be under pressure to help us in any way we deem his assistance necessary—is that it?"

"I agree with you, Washington that your assistant is invaluable. Larremio," the Don chuckled at the girl's observation, "She—what do you call it?—hit the nail dead in the centre is that how you say it?"

"Hit the nail on the head," McLoudry corrected. "But," he continued his examination of the possibilities of Tony the Wop, "How will I know to what extent this Italian beggar can put me in touch with the people I am seeking."

"Tony is the secretary of the Mexican-German Club," their host offered cigarettes to his guests, while Marion and Larry exchanged covert glances between them. "And in the case you are engaged upon," the Don held a light for each of them in turn, "that is where I should begin my enquiries."

"Is this Mexican German Club a social, or political organization?" Marion ventured, as a servant announced the first guest of the evening, a clerk in a German travel-bureau by the name of von Mukden. "It is the hub of Nazi intrigue in Mexico City," Don Phillips whispered rising to meet the newcomer to whom he then introduced Mr. and Mrs. Beauchamp of Washington, as friends of his who were spending a few days holiday in the delightful country of his birth.

Immediately after the arrival of von Mukden other guests began to appear in quick succession, with the result that opportunities for the Don to have a private word with McLoudry were few and far between from then onwards. As for Marion, her vivacious personality presented such an intriguing contrast to the Mexican scrotes and senoritas present with their husbands and escorts, that she promptly became the center of quite a court circle for the rest of the evening.

In spite of the demands upon his time as host, however, the Don managed to attract McLoudry's attention by a discreet inclination of the head at one point in the general hub-bub of conversation, after which he led the way to a private sitting-room into which a servant—acting upon previous instructions from his master—had ushered Signor Marchese. Immediately the latter was announced.

Without any preliminaries the Don went straight to the point after his brief introduction of the two men, and then, assuring McLoudry that they would be quite private in the little sitting-room, he discreetly returned to the care and entertainment of his welcome guests in the main salon.

"Sit down, Mr. Marchese," the Canadian officer motioned to a chair as he was bidden but all the while eyeing the Sergeant up and down like a strange dog, as the latter took out a cigarette, offered one to the Italian—which was refused—and then lit his own before breaking the ice by remarking, "I understand that you are an official of the Mexican-German Club, Senior. That is correct, I take it?"

"That is correct," Tony swallowed hard wondering just how much the other knew and what in the devil the man was after, for the secretary of the Nazi gang was under no delusion about what he was expected to do. The Don had made it quite plain to Tony that he was to co-operate with a friend who wanted certain information—or else.

"I'll come to the point, Senior Marchese," McLoudry looked the other square in the eye. "I want you to introduce me at the next meeting of the club as an ardent disciple of Nazi Germany, and I am looking for a chance to help the Fatherland—you comprehend?"

"I understand," "After I'm in solid I'll take care of the rest of it myself, while as far as you are concerned, how you account for where you met me is no business of mine. I want your help—but I have no objection to you saving your hide—providing you remember that ten years in a Mexican jail will be the penalty for any . . . accidental lapse of memory on your part, such as mentioning to a living soul a single word about our interview tonight."

"I will not play you false, Senior," the man seemed to shrink as he licked his dry, protruding lips, a haunting fear of the consequences should he betray his interviewer plainly in his shifty eyes.

After a few words relative to meetings and setting a date for his introduction to the club, McLoudry dismissed the man and returning to the general assembly of guests, noted with a satisfied grin that his associate was also on the job, having apparently devoted himself to the company of von Mukden for the rest of the evening.

TRANS-CANADA AIR LINES

HAD RECORD YEAR 1941

Winnipeg, January — Passengers carried by Trans-Canada Air Lines in 1941 totalled 85,164, more than 60 percent increase over the total for 1940 of 53,180, according to information released by O. T. Larson, Vice President.

Airmail likewise jumped from 927,381 pound in 1940 to 1,339,614 in 1941. Air express traffic doubled the year the figure being 173,192 pounds compared with 88,314 in 1940.

The closing month of last year saw the heaviest mail load T. C. A. has carried during any month in its history. It was 150,261 pounds. Air express in December was 14,434 pounds and passengers numbered 6,079, both slightly down from November.

CANADIAN-MADE CARTRIDGES

PROVE SECOND TO NONE

In a veritable no-man's-land fifty miles from Montreal, where flaming arrows of Indians may once have described their graceful arc, tracer bullets, modern flaming arrows, are fired by the thousands day and night while the valleys echo and re-echo constantly with the sharp crack of rifle fire and the quick, breathless staccato of machine-guns. This activity has but one purpose—to test the ammunition produced there in the plant of Defense Industries Limited warfare subsidiary of C.I.L. so that it may deserve the trust of airmen whose lives depend upon it.

In the manufacture of cartridges, almost as much money is spent on testing and checking the parts and the finished product as is spent on production itself, according to an article by J. Harwood Jones in the December issue of C.I.L. OVAL.

The article draws a parallel between the tests and examinations a would-be R.C.A.F. pilot undergoes and the tests given to the cartridges he will use. Medical examinations and interviews in the one case are parallel by chemical and metallurgical tests and endless inspections in the other. The Link trainer, which tests a pilot's reactions at the controls of a plane before he leaves the ground, finds a parallel in the queer instruments of the ballistics laboratory, which check a cartridge's performance from every conceivable reaction and enable defects to be traced immediately to their source. A fixed number of cartridges are picked at random from every lot produced in D.I.L. for these tests.

After the Link trainer, the pilot begins actual flying. Continuing the parallel, after the ballistics laboratory the cartridges are tested under active service conditions on an outdoor test range. Down the range, protected by huge mounds of earth and concrete, are observation posts where a competent staff of experts check the performance of every bullet fired, keep records of accuracy, and in the case of the tracer bullets check the length of trace.

It is the thoroughness of these tests that has enabled nearly ninety per cent. of all ammunition so far produced by D.I.L. for military use to be accepted as serviceable for use in R.C.A.F. and R.C.M.P. high-speed aircraft, machine-guns, the highest classification of all. The balance has been accepted as serviceable for ground use and for practice purposes.

FARM NEWS

The precipitation which occurred in 1941 during the months of August, September and October in Alberta was 107 per cent of the normal, as compared with 83 per cent last year. In Saskatchewan this past fall it was 88 per cent of the normal, and in Manitoba it was 168 per cent of the normal as compared with the previous year. Combining the three prairie provinces together, the percentage of the normal this year is 104 per cent of normal as compared with 83 per cent last year. This all refers however to land that is in stubble and a good deal of the coarse grains will be seeded this coming spring on such land. Wheat, however, this next spring will be seeded almost exclusively on summerfallow. This summerfallow land will contain the moisture not only of this last fall, but of the previous summer, and of the years before that.

An examination of the map reveals that there are large areas in Saskatchewan where considerably less than normal moisture occurred this past fall. There are also in central and southern Alberta areas deficient in fall moisture. But the map reveals that Manitoba, particularly in southern and central Manitoba, enjoyed almost record-breaking fall rains.

World of Wheat

H. G. L. Strange,
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

A most fascinating and interesting piece of work that all farmers should attempt at this time of the year, is the germinating of the grain they propose to use as seed. It is quite practicable for farmers to test their own seeds at home, and no equipment is needed.

A fair-sized flower pot, or even a wooden box, say twelve inches by six by six inches deep, with a few holes drilled in the bottom to allow drainage will do. The container should be filled with nice loamy earth such as can be dug out of a summerfallow field. Then 100 seeds should be planted about 1½ inches deep in this soil. The soil should be watered daily. The box should be placed in front of a window and where the temperature will be the ordinary house temperature. It should not be placed too near a stove.

In a few days the sprouts will begin to appear and they can be counted, and so the percentage of germination can be figured, and the farmer can also observe whether the sprouts are strong and vital, or weak and feeble.

In the event that the germination is low, then a sample of the seed should be submitted for official testing. Any Elevator Agent can have such a test made.

Following factors have tended to raise prices:—North American winter wheat acreage south for harvest in 1942 was 14 per cent below last year. Crops in India have suffered recently from dryness and locusts. The parity price of wheat in the U.S.A. figures out at $1.30; actual price at Chicago is $1.30. Cold weather has prevailed over Europe recently.

Following factors have tended to lower prices:—North American visible supplies of wheat on Jan. 30th were 702 million bushels as compared with 635 million last year—Crop conditions in the U.S.A. and Argentina are generally satisfactory. The Argentine exportable surplus of wheat as of Jan. 24th was 246.6 million bushels compared with 171.6 million last year.

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

TERRIBLE LOSS OF

WORK-DAYS THRU ILLNESS

In a single month, 24 million man-days of work in United States were lost because of illness (a man-day is one man or woman working for one day), according to a recent Gallup Poll, published in the New York Times.

With United States at war there is an increasing need for better health education and wider measures of health conservation, says Dr. George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion.

Dr. Gallup declares that it is important to keep the nation in top health, particularly in view of the fact that the war, in the last analysis, is an international race of industrial production.

Each day lost from illness by individual workers in American war industries means that much less production of tanks, air-planes, warships and all the myriad supplies needed for modern war, he states.

"Despite America's tremendous food resources and medical facilities, illness continues to take surprising toll of production efficiency. A recent survey establishes the following facts:

1. Throughout the United States as a whole, an estimated 24 million man-days of work were lost because of illness in the four-week period, Nov. 24-Dec. 20.

2. Industries connected directly or indirectly with war production approximately 3,000,000 man-days of work were lost from illness in the same period.

3. The time lost from illness in war industries or war-connected industries would if it were concentrated entirely on the building of war implements, be equivalent to the time required for the actual building of two heavy cruisers, or 448 medium bombers or 3,200 light tanks.

Studies of work-days lost from illness have been made from time to time in individual factories or business firms, but the Institute's survey George Gallup believes, is the first on a complete nation-wide scale. It will be repeated at intervals in order to provide a trend study for the duration of the war.

Research in Canada reveals that 50,000 industrial workers are off each day. Other alarming facts that have stirred the Health League of Canada to action are:

Sickness in Canada last year cost more than 250 million dollars 25 million more than the total cost of the Royal Canadian Air Force plus the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

Of the young Canadian men who have offered to enlist so far, 44% were turned down because they were physically unfit.

SOCIAL HYGIENE PROBLEM

The problem of venereal disease has been one of the greatest in the whole field of public health. Its seriousness almost unrecognized until the first decade of this century, during the last war it was responsible for keeping literally hundreds of thousands of men out of the ranks and creating many serious and expensive post war disabilities.

Since 1920 an aggressive campaign involving the co-operation of the Dominion and the provinces has been carried on. Legislation has been passed in most of the provinces. An extensive educational programme by the Health League of Canada (formerly the Canadian Social Hygiene Council) has carried on and half a million persons have been brought under treatment. The result of these factors and advances in treatment is that venereal disease so far, at least has not been as serious a matter in the present war as in the 1914-18 conflict.

Yet the authorities are taking no chances lest war is followed by its usual result—an increase in venereal disease incidence. The Dominion grant to the provinces for the purchase of drugs to be used in treatment has been continued. The Health League of Canada has mapped out an extensive programme and various provinces have shown evidence of greatly increased activity. In British Columbia a most comprehensive campaign is in progress. In Ontario legislation has been improved and increasing efforts are evident to insure the treatment of early cases and to search out and treat later cases which otherwise will develop into serious and expensive neurological disabilities. In Quebec the one province in Canada which has been without adequate laws for the control of venereal disease it is expected that legislation will be placed on the statute books during the coming meeting of the legislature.

In two western provinces some effort has been made to deal with medical examination marriage. In the rest of Canada none of the provinces have attempted to deal with the question. In this respect Canada is far behind the United States where a majority of the States have taken some action. As against this a co-ordinate country-wide attack on the venereal disease problem has been in progress in Canada for twenty years with definite results. Fine as the programme in the United States now as it was late in starting, with the result that on the whole Canada is ahead in its record of reduced disease incidence.

The Health of Canada has made available for use in military camps a number of different moving pictures dealing with the problem of venereal disease. These pictures are now in circulation in various camps throughout Canada. Their educational value is undoubtedly considerable.

League will shortly sponsor a new moving picture dealing with this subject. This picture, however, will be shown in theatres only, for the present.

BRITAIN'S CELLULOID CIRCUS

Crofters in the windwept islands of the Hebrides and market gardeners in the flower land of the Shetlands were among the 3,000,000 people in the British Isles who last year saw films shown by flying squads of mobile film units.

Sponsored by the British Ministry of Information these 70 units which will soon be 100 are known up and down the British Isles as the "Celluloid Circus". They travel thousands of miles through rural and urban Britain making stands for the night and moving on next day.

Morning noon or night there is always an audience waiting for them. First come the schoolchildren to special films about the Empire and its Allies. In the afternoon films about food and wartime housewifery are shown to Women's Institutes in the countryside and to Townswomen's Guilds in the towns. In the evening there may be a fit-up in a farm for agriculture workers and the day is rounded off with a "midnight matinee" between shifts at an armament factory.

These free shows, which usually last about 80 minutes, let people see how their own activities fit into the general picture of the nation at war. The new orator-film moreover has brought the public forum into the village and leads discussions of the country's problems.

Apart from these mobile units M. O. I. and other films are available from the Central Film Library free of charge to any organization which has facilities for showing them. Between 6,000 and 6,000 films are dispatched each month.

Hints for the Household

The lowly peanut, we are told possesses extraordinary food values. Few other vegetables have such a wide range of food possibilities, whether eaten raw or cooked. They contain vitamins A, B, C, D, and E, and cost a mere trifle, so let us use them at home and send delicacies containing them to the boys at school or camp.

Hash may be one of those things to be endured because we mustn't waste food, or it can be a gourmet's delight. There are cooks who have a way with hash, so it becomes the latter dish; but all of us can improve our technique so that our hash is regarded with appreciation.

ARE YOU A PAID-UP MEMBER OF THE RED CROSS?

The help and support of every Canadian is needed this year, for the greatest testing time humanity has ever known is approaching with the opening of the spring offensive. There is a place for everyone who cannot enlist on active service. As Winston Churchill said "There is no room now for the diffident, for the weakling, for the shirker or the Staggered." Red Cross provides a field of service to the suffering, the destitute, the prisoner, the wounded, the victims of ruthlessness. We welcome your co-operation. Join up now.

Mails is one of the most "distressed" islands in the world. During the past months 50 huge crates of clothing, quilts and blankets from Canadian Red Cross have been shipped to them. During the same time quilts, bedding, afghans and baby outfits to the value of $150.00 have been supplied for distribution to British Bomb Victims.

The fact that Britain is not being badly bombed does not mean that clothing is no longer needed. The women of Britain have been conscripted for war work and have not time to sew for their children, and clothing is strictly rationed.

Bombing on a large scale may be resumed at any time, with emergency needs for survivors.

To date this branch has forwarded for Russian Medical Supplies the sum of $139.50, of which amount the local branch themselves donated $11.03.

We gratefully acknowledge receipt of—
